

JSPS Washington Office and the Consulate-General of Japan present

The Japan-US Science Forum in Boston

“Changing the World through Japan’s Scientific Endeavors”

Food Science for the future: Health, Supply and Culture

Date and Time: 1:00–6:30 pm, Saturday, November 18, 2017

Venue: Room B103, Northwest Bldg., Harvard University

Free, in English, Register here by November 9

Moderator: Kenneth Oye MIT Political Science

Lectures

=Culture=

Theodore C. Bestor Reischauer Institute of Japanese Studies

=Health=

Laurent Adamowicz Eradicate Childhood Obesity Foundation

Motoko Mukai Cornell University

=Supply=

Kazuhito Yamashita Canon Institute for Global Studies

Anowar Islam University of Wyoming

Panel Discussion

Lauren Abda Branchfood, Paul Arthur Berkman Tufts University,

Hauke Kite-Powell Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution,

Preston Estep III Veritas Genetics, Hiroshi Ishii MIT Media Lab,

Rokuichiro Michii Consulate-General of Japan in Boston

Poster Sessions will follow

JSPS is one of the largest research funding agencies in Japan for all disciplines.

Support:
REISCHAUER INSTITUTE OF JAPANESE STUDIES
HARVARD UNIVERSITY

branchfood

